Muskat Ships

Received 27 November 1793

A friendly intercourse has long subsisted between the Company & the Imam of Muskat, and Marquis Cornwallis added to it so as to produce the most perfect unanimity. In that belief the Imam has sent a few presents as a token of Friendship. The Ships Dispatched by him to the Port of Salcutta have arrived. We have paid the Custom House Duties and cleared out the Goods except 500 Bags of Salt, concerning which the Imam has written in his Letter to the Marquis Cornwallis and it has long been usual with the Gentlemen of the Salt Department to let the Salt pass agreeably to the Imams Request after payment of the Duties, and We hope that you will refer to the Letter and give orders to the Gentlemen of the Salt Department to receive the Duty for the bags of Salt in question and let them pass - also that orders may be given to the Custom master for our being allowed to buy Rice and load it on the Ships at the Season for their sailing is approaching, and we are desirous to get every thing ready and sail as soon as possible.

Agree from Sheikh Jossin Hauie Mooshid Sheikh Ahmed and Sauleh Commanders of Arab Ships & Contraband of Muskat.

The favor of the Company's Equity and benevolent Government has induced us to repair every year to Calcutta with the Ship that belongs to us to seek a livelihood after selling our cargoes we used to freight our Ships back to Muskat the port of the Inaurn with Rice.

An order of Government has lately been issued prohibiting the transportation of that article to any country but that of the Company. We are therefore here in Calcutta quite at a loss and hope permission will be granted to load four Ships with Rice.
