To

Our esteemed friend His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General of India,
the Marquis of Linlithgow.

After compliments,

Before leaving India we take the opportunity to write this letter to Your Excellency to express the thanks and gratitude we bear in our heart towards Your Excellency for the generous welcome and hospitality which we have received from the day we arrived in India, and especially in its Capital Delhi where we were the guest of Your Excellency.

We are most grateful for Your Excellency's kindness, and for all the arrangements for our comfort that were made for us in Your Excellency's Stately palace, all of which show Your Excellency's thoughtful disposition.

We will never forget those happy days which we spent enjoying in honour and esteem the hospitality of Your Excellency and that of the gracious Government right up to the time we arrived in Bombay.

We repeat our sincere thanks both to Your Excellency and Her Excellency the Marchioness of Linlithgow in particular, and to all Government officers in general for their kind treatment of us.

With our best wishes that the ties of friendship between us should ever remain firm and steady,

We are,

The eager for your friendship

Sd. Said Taimur

The Sultan of Muscat and Oman.
